The loss of the ships was announced in the Commons June 23 by Dominions Secretary Clement Attlee, but he did not then identify them.

OTTAWA (CP)—An R.C.A.F. bomber crashed when taking off to search for the Japanese craft which recently shelled Estevan Point on Vancouver Island, Defence Minister Ralston said in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Poor flying conditions at airfields closest to the scene of the shelling made it impossible for machines to operate from them and the bomber was being sent from a more distant station.

Col. Ralston was answering a question from Angus MacInnis, C.C.F., Vancouver East, who said west coast residents were concerned over the length of time required to send airplanes to Estevan Point after the enemy attack.

Egypt Armies in New Clash Red Line Holds in Tank Battle Throw Nazis Back From Isolated Gains

RUSSIAN GUNNERS IGNORE MERE BOMBS—With death-dealing bombs bursting about them, Russian anti-aircraft gun crew on outskirts of Sevastopol calmly tries to pick off German dive bomber. (Radiophoto).

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW (AP)—The greatest tank battle of the current German offensive, with hundreds of machines engaged on both sides, is in progress east of Kursk, while 75 and 100 miles to the south Nazi shock troops are attempting to outflank and separate the Russian central and southern armies, Soviet military dispatches reported today.

The battle on the Kursk front began Wednesday morning with an attack by about 200 German tanks, the dispatches said.

These were hurled back, and then the real mass engagement began at noon that day.

The Germans have suffered tremendous losses, and in the thick of battle the Red army has managed to increase the fortifications of its already strong positions, said Red Star, the army newspaper.

Villages Retaken By Russians

Few details were given, but the Russians were said to have recaptured several villages.

Kursk, a key front in the present conflict, is about 280 miles south of Moscow and 125 miles north of Kharkov.

To the south, the new German thrusts were in the Belgorod and Volchansk sectors, 50 and 35 miles north and northeast of Kharkov.

At these points, roughly midway in the battle line from Kursk to Kupiansk, the Germans were admitted to hold numerical superiority. Before Volchansk the Germans were acknowledged to have broken through temporarily at some points with small groups of tanks.

Red Star said they had made no real gains, however, being exterminated or driven back to their previous positions.

At Belgorod the Germans were reported thrown back to their original starting place by the fierce resistance of Soviet artillery and infantry supported by tanks and planes.

German losses in both areas were described as "extremely heavy."

A Russian communique at noon declared that at the Crimean city of Sevastopol, which the Germans claim to have taken after a bitter siege and assault, "fighting continued in the streets."

Other Russian dispatches from undisclosed places said the Germans rushed the city after concentrating several divisions of infantry and many tanks and planes in a single narrow sector.

The exhausted retreating defenders were declared to be offering stubborn resistance to the advancing foe.

(In London a military commentator today said determined isolated bands of Russians still were holding out in strong points in Sevastopol, although the Germans appeared to possess the main parts of the city.)

Germans Claim Wide Front Broken

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP)—The German high command today claimed German troops have broken through the Russian front on a width of nearly 300 kilometres (about 185 miles).

(The communique did not locate the section of the front involved.)

6-Cent Limit Set

Chocolate bars and chewing gum on which the new excise tax has been paid will sell at 6 cents, the foods administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced. Public attention was called to the official price in view of reports that some dealers have been charging 7 cents.

F. T. W. Saunders, administrator of cocoa, chocolate, biscuits and confectionery in the foods administration, said 6 cents is the maximum price which can be charged for chocolate bars and chewing gum on which the new excise tax has been paid.

Chocolate bars and chewing gum purchased by dealers before the tax was imposed last week must charge no more than 5 cents.

Metal Workers At Quebec Plant Stage Walk-out

OTTAWA (CP)—A Labor Department spokesman today termed "illegal" the strike of 600 employees of Alloys and Metals Ltd. at Beauharnois, Que., which was announced today by an official of the company.

A Labor Department investigator had gone to the strike scene this morning, this official said.

A department spokesman said that neither the men's leaders nor the company officials had been notified in advance of the men's intention to quit their jobs.

He said the men had a working agreement with the company and that the strike was contrary to the terms of this agreement.

MAY HALT PLANT

BEAUHARNOIS, Que. (CP)—A strike of the 600 employees of Alloys and Metals Limited was announced by a company official.

"The situation is serious," said Robert Turnbull, company vice-president.

"Our plant will be shut down for two to three weeks if the pots 'freeze'—and they will 'freeze' within 24 hours if not attended to. It will take a couple of weeks to clean them out."

Turnbull said the company had advised the Dominion department of labor of the strike, and added the men had gone on strike Thursday night without any preliminary negotiation with the company.

"So far as we could find out—just a few moments ago—they are apparently out for higher wages," he continued. "Right now, they are picketing the plant and won't let anyone enter."

Turnbull said that in striking the men had violated a wage agreement set to expire next year, but he did not give details of the scale of wages paid by the company. He added they had "gone over the heads of their union" in walking out.

No statement was available immediately from spokesmen for the strikers.

Adjourn Hearing On Drew Charge

TORONTO (CP)—Proceedings against Lt.-Col. George A. Drew, Ontario Conservative leader, who is charged with making a statement "likely to prejudice recruiting," were adjourned today for one week.

The adjournment was requested by Crown Counsel D. L. McCarthy when Col. Drew appeared before Magistrate J. Douglas McNish in police court in response to a summons served by R.C.M.P. June 24. Mr. McCarthy said that owing to circumstances beyond his control certain evidence was not available.

Mr. McCarthy first proposed adjourning the case one week with the understanding that then a date could be set on which to proceed with the hearing. Col. Drew, acting on his own behalf, objected there were no grounds for such lengthy delay and the Crown agreed to proceed July 10.

ASKS PARTICULARS

Col. Drew also asked for particulars of the charge against him, holding the summons was carelessly drawn.

"As a citizen of Canada, I insist on my legal rights and I want the statement of which they complain," he said. "It seems strange for the department of justice to lay a charge and then be unable to supply the particulars."

Mr. McCarthy, at the request of the magistrate, agreed to supply a copy of the information to Col. Drew next Monday.

Col. Drew was assisted by R. H. Greer of Toronto.

TUNIS (AP)—Fourteen persons, including five children in swimming, have been killed by floating mines in Tunisian waters, authorities announced today.

British Attempt To Press Attacks As Nazis Retire

'SCORCHED EARTH'—IN EGYPT—Heavy charges of dynamite are placed under a water tower in Solum, on the Egyptian border by British troops, above, before evacuating to a stronger line of defence. Advancing Axis troops found the tower demolished and the precious water-soaked into the sand.

Associated Press

Britain's Egyptian armies clashed with the Axis in violent battle west of El Alamein again today after driving Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's Africa Corps into retreat in the three-day-old "battle of the bottleneck."

Dispatches from the front said British troops, rallying at the 11th hour, were striking furiously at the Axis invaders.

Details were lacking as to whether Rommel had returned after withdrawing Thursday night or whether the 8th Army, seizing the initiative, is pursuing the Axis forces.

A bulletin from British headquarters said Rommel's army "withdrew to the west, leaving our positions intact," after a fierce tank battle Thursday evening at El Alamein, less than 70 miles west of Alexandria.

Italian headquarters Thursday claimed the capture of El Alamein, described as the last stronghold guarding the Great Alexandria naval base.

First Major Setback For Rommel's Armies

Front line dispatches said the twilight tank battle in the desert, the first major setback for Rommel's armies in their sweep toward the Nile, climaxed bitter all-day fighting in which the invaders launched a general attack against El Alamein.

"Our mobile and armored forces counter-attacked the enemy flanks," a British communique said, inflicting such heavy losses that Rommel called a retreat.

"Throughout the battle our light bombers, fighter-bombers and fighters were employed in increasing numbers and heavily attacked enemy concentrations southwest of El Alamein," the communique said.

Italy's high command, locating the scene of battle as "southeast of El Alamein," asserted 2,000 more British troops had been captured and declared Axis operations were developing favorably.

"Strong enemy forces were wiped out," the Italian communique claimed.

Break-through Claim By Axis Disputed

The British communique disputed the Axis claim of Thursday that Rommel's forces had broken through their main position.

El Alamein is the northern anchor of the 35-mile British line protecting the "bottleneck" gateway to Alexandria. The line extends from the Mediterranean coastal escarpment to the desolate Quattara salt sink.

Boostered by "very considerable reinforcement," which Prime Minister Churchill announced Thursday were arriving at the front, Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck's armies were throwing everything they had into the struggle to save Egypt.

Dispatches said a flying column of tanks and mobile artillery swept around Rommel's right flank in a surprise thrust and encircled the enemy Thursday evening.

Out-foxing Now Chief Game

It was not clear whether this was merely a light harassing force to slash at Rommel's vital lines of communication or a full-scale encirclement manoeuvre. If the latter, it would appear that Gen. Auchinleck had outfoxed "The Fox," drawing Rommel deep into the coastal bottleneck and then cutting off the escape route to the west.

Withdrawal of Rommel's heavy mechanized columns through the Quattara salt marshes would be virtually impossible.

The enemy, like the British and their Allies, has been throwing everything he has into the fight. Dispatches to Cairo indicate the main bodies of the two opposing armies are so heavily engaged that there is no question of turning back or breaking off the battle to reorganize battered units.

Turn in Your Tubes

"What are you doing with your used collapsible metal tubes?" ask officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

They say apparently the public is not yet aware that these tubes are of great salvage value. The board has checked 32 stores but finds people are not yet turning in their old tubes in spite of the fact that the country needs the tin very badly.

Orders have been issued by the board for every retail merchant who handles tubes to set up in his store a receptacle to hold them. Every merchant, other than a druggist, who receives tubes is required to deliver them to the nearest drug store. The tubes are picked up by wholesale druggists and sent to the smelters.

City in Kiangsi Occupied By Japs

CHUNGKING (AP) — The Chinese high command announced today the Japanese had captured the important highway city in Kiangsi province 80 miles south of Nanchang.

This indicated the invaders were pressing an attempt to trap a large Chinese force in a semi-circle south of the Chekiang-Kiangsi railway which the Japanese claimed to have captured fully two days ago.

(In Tokyo today Domei-Japanese news and propaganda agency, claimed Japanese troops had killed 17,031 Chinese soldiers and captured 2,505 in operations during the last 50 days on the Chekiang-Kiangsi front.)

2 Indians Join War Cabinet

LONDON (CP) — The India Office today announced that Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar and the Maharajah Jam Sahib of Nawangar have been added to the British war cabinet and the Pacific War Council.

Simultaneously the India Office announced new appointments in the Viceroy's Council with inclusion of hitherto unrepresented communities such as the Sikhs and the depressed classes; and expansion of the council from 12 to 15 members.

The steps were seen by the Manchester Guardian as a step in the right direction.

"The new appointments in India are welcome so far as they go," said the Guardian, adding that the gesture of inviting two Indians to serve in the war cabinet and Pacific Council was "overdue and not novel" because Indians served in the war cabinet in the first Great War.

SLIGHTLY OPENS DOOR

The Guardian said further, in commenting on expansion of the Viceroy's Council, "this reform has nothing of the boldness evident in Sir Stafford Cripps' recent proposals though perhaps it will open by another fraction the door he left."

Appointments to the Viceroy's Council, with their portfolios, are: Commerce, N. R. Sarker; Defence, Sir Firoz Khan Noon; War Transport, Sir Edward Benthall; Information, Sir C. P. Ramaswami Aiyar; Labor, Dr. B. R. Ambedkar; Education, Health and Lands, Sir Jogendra Singh; Civil Defence, Sir Jwala P. Sprivas-tava; Posts and Air, Sir Muhammad Usman.

Of the appointments to the war cabinet, Sir Ramaswami Mudaliar represents the government of India, while the Maharajah Jam Sahib represents the order of princes.

The London Times said the increase in the Viceroy's Council boosts the proportions of Indians and is "another step in the process of placing more responsibility on Indian shoulders."

Permits Required For Use of Asphalt

OTTAWA (CP) — Permits now are required for the use of asphalt for various types of construction and manufacturing.

An order, published today in an extra edition of the Canada Gazette, provides permits must be obtained to use or consume any asphalt "for or in the construction, maintenance or repair of any road; or for or in the construction or maintenance of any roof; or for or in the manufacture of processing of briquettes, building paper or building felt, linoleum or oilcloth."

Munitions and supply officials said further details of the order will be made public within a few days.

ANOTHER WAY OF GETTING RUBBER — One way of getting rubber is to fish for it. In Seattle a big dredge now explores the bottom of Lake Union and comes up with plenty. The scrap rubber committee says there are 30 tons of rubber on the lake's bottom.

To Aid Students Wanted for War

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister Mitchell announced today that some 500 young men and women who have matriculated from secondary schools will be aided in entering universities this fall for certain engineering and science courses.

"This plan is an extension of the government's present program of student aid, and in most provinces will be financed by equal contributions from the Dominion and provincial governments," Mr. Mitchell said.

Students aided in their first year will be required to take courses acceptable to E. M. Little, director of national selective service. The greatest need is for students to enter physics, mechanical, electric and civil engineering, the minister said. Assistance will take the form of loans or grants and students will be required to sign an agreement that they will make their services available in the war effort "as required," in the capacity for which they have been trained.

British Channel Guns Busy for 2 Hours

LONDON (CP) — Ground-shaking cannonading, virtually all of it apparently from the English side, occurred along Dover Strait from last midnight until 2 this morning.

Residents along the southeast coast of Kent were roused by the thunder and scores left their beds to hasten to the seafloor or cliff tops.

(Sporadic cannonading along the English Channel in the past usually has meant an attack on a convoy steaming through the Channel, either by the British or German vessels or a German attack on British vessels.)

ALICE ARM FOLK SAFE, POLICE SAY

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. (CP) — Sgt. O. L. Hall of the Provincial Police returned here today from Observatory Inlet with a report which eased fears for the safety of the settlement at Alice Arm, which had appeared in the path of a forest fire which wiped out the mining town of Anyox Wednesday.

Sgt. Hall said although the fire was spreading in the general direction of Alice Arm, 18 miles southwest of Anyox, the settlement did not appear in immediate danger. Firefighting crews have gone into action to prevent a farther sweep of the fire.

Sgt. Hall brought four Anyox residents, including Mr. and Mrs. Matthews and their baby, to Prince Rupert, which is 90 miles from the ghost mining town.

Trade Agent's Story

Back in Ottawa From Singapore

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's trade commissioner to Singapore, J. L. Mutter, walked into the Trade and Commerce Department today and expressed his apologies for not showing up sooner.

With Mrs. Mutter he had just ended a 10,000-mile trip by cattle boat, river craft and army transport—much of it just a hop, skip and jump ahead of the Japanese.

The couple left Singapore Feb. 1, two weeks before the city fell to the Japanese.

It took nine days for their boat to reach Java—normally a 36-hour trip—and meantime Mr. and Mrs. Mutter with the other passengers slept on hatch covers and ate spinach and mashed potatoes.

In an effort to avoid planes the vessel moved only at night and during daylight hid by one of the islands.

Java seemed like a haven of safety, but day by day the Japanese smashed nearer and it was necessary to leave.

They found a place in a little river boat. With six times her normal passenger limit and only emergency R.A.F. rations for food, the small craft set sail for Australia.

"For 11 days we lived on bully beef and hardtack with a whisky bottle full of water for drinking and washing every day," Mrs. Mutter said.

From Australia they came back to North America in a United States army transport.

Fewer Shoe Styles Will Save Leather

OTTAWA (CP) — Styles, colors and finishes of leather footwear—from infants' soft-sole shoes to men's work boots—are regulated in an order issued today by Louis Daoust, footwear administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Prescribing no major change in the styles or classes of footwear now being worn by Canadians, the new simplification regulations, by eliminating "frills," will result in substantial savings of both leather and metal, the board predicts.

Under the order, women's shoes will be restricted to seven colors—brown, golden tobacco, tan, blue tan, blue jacket, kona red, black and white; men's dress footwear to five colors, and men's work boots to two. Leather slippers will be manufactured in only six shades and babies' soft-sole in four.

Steel is conserved by restricting use of steel shanks to essential arch support and safety shoes. Imitation rivets are banned, rivets being permitted only on loggers', miners' and safety boots. Metal hooks, buckles, or other metal trimmings are prohibited.

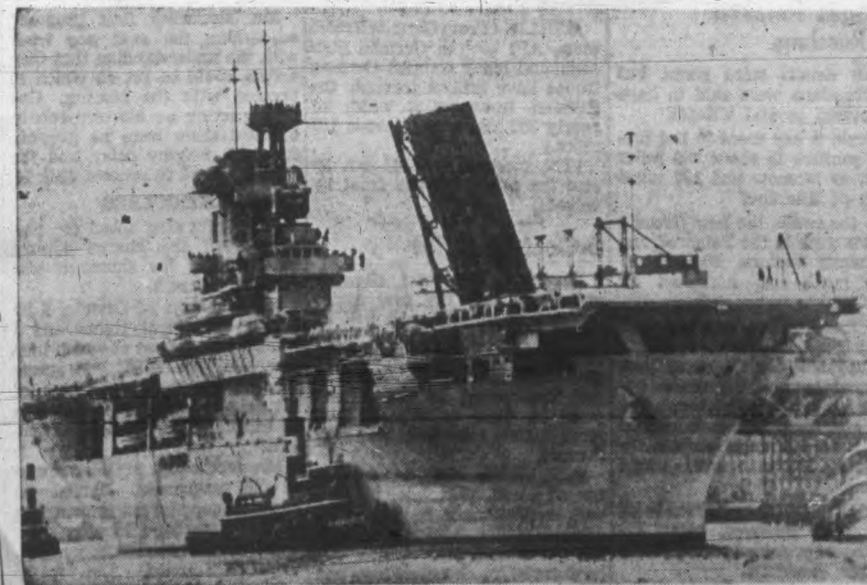

After Sept. 30, show boxes will be limited to one color—white. Shipping cases for footwear are standardized.

Manufacturers' expenditures for new lasts, dies and patterns are reduced by 50 per cent and for men's oxfords a maximum of six patterns is permitted.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Herman Gustavson, an old age pensioner, died in a hospital here Thursday night half an hour after he had been struck by a street car.

Twenty-eight other residents were taken to Alice Arm.

'WASP' TURNS UP AT MALTA TO PUT STING IN BRITISH DEFENCE — One of the U.S. navy's newest aircraft carriers, the Wasp, above, has appeared in a new place. No damage was suffered on any of the trips. The announcement was made in the House of Commons, London, and was cheered by members.

LONDON (CP) — Wartime shortage of steel has partly solved the peacetime puzzle of what happens to old razor blades. The answer—at the moment—is simple. They become "new" blades. Goebbels Complains
About Second Front

BERNE, Switzerland (AP)—Germany's propaganda minister, Paul Joseph Goebbels, complained Thursday in an article in the German weekly publication Das Reich that President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill are not "reasonable" enemies and might, therefore, try a second front.

He assured the people of Germany that "the entrance to Europe is blocked," but said it would be "more agreeable" if Germany were confronted by "intelligent leadership" whose actions one could foresee with "a certain probability."

Goebbels said Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill are capable of the "greatest foolishness" and no one was in a position to "predict where, when and how they intend to establish the so-called second front."

He asserted Germany is prepared on the western front and that "better" cards are in our hands. "The English are not here; they must come."

He added that Germany is not interested in the prospect; that the only question is whether the Allies desire it or not.

$9,500 Fire
At Zeballos

ZEBALLOS (CP)—Fire early Thursday destroyed the Westview Club building and an adjoining residence and threatened several other buildings, including the Standard Oil plant, before being brought under control.

Damage to the club building, owned by Harry Kent and associates, was estimated at $7,500, while loss of the Kent residence, owned by J. J. Frumento of Victoria, was set at $2,000. The club was partially covered by insurance.

Cause of the blaze was not known. Indians who were here to celebrate the Dominion Day holiday, joined with whites in fighting the flames, which they controlled as the fire approached the home of J. Cullins, publisher of the Zeballos Miner. The interior of the Cullins' residence was badly damaged by water and smoke.

MAJOR JOAN KENNEDY

At the halfway mark on a tour of inspection of all C.W.A.C. establishments throughout Canada, Major Joan Kennedy, commandant of the corps, returned today to her home town, arriving by plane from Vancouver.

Looking fit and handsome in her smart light khaki uniform, the red-backed major's crown on her shoulder strap supplying a touch of brightness, the Victoria girl said she was pleased to be back, but pointed out she was far from being here on a holiday.

She spent the morning meeting officials at Work Point, including Col. R. G. Whitelaw, D.O.C., M.D. 11, and Lieut. Mary McIlvenna, officer in charge of the C.W.A.C. for this district, and renewing acquaintance with many army officers with whom she came in contact during her work here prior to her departure for Ottawa last year.

Completely enthusiastic about her work, although not stressing her own part in it, Major Kennedy said recruiting for the corps is proceeding apace, present capacity for enrollment and basic training being filled. It is believed, however, that provision is being made for considerable expansion in the immediate future.

Major Kennedy said she was not certain how long she would be in Victoria. On her departure she will visit other C.W.A.C. establishments in Saskatchewan and Manitoba en route back to headquarters at Ottawa.

British Seamen
Fined for Assault

Michael J. Doolan and Douglas Hill, two British seamen from a ship recently disabled off this coast, were given the option of serving 10 days or paying $50 fines when convicted in police court today of assaulting Stoker P.O. Neal Chrysler late Thursday night.

Chrysler appeared in court with a black eye, a cut over his right eye, two teeth missing and blood stains on the front of his coat.

He said he had been drinking with naval ratings in a downtown beer club and had left to go to his hotel room.

While walking, Chrysler said, four men came from behind and a fifth began to punch him. He said they scattered when the police arrived.

While being searched at the station, Detective F. Woodburn said, Doolan pulled a blood-stained shirt from his coat pocket. Doolan stated the blood was from a nose bleed. He denied being in a fight. Hill pleaded guilty to the assault charge.

"This was an unprovoked and cowardly attack," Magistrate Hall said as he passed sentence.

London Papers
Score Debate,
Laud Churchill

LONDON (CP)—The London press today applauded the House of Commons vote of confidence in Prime Minister Churchill, but concurred in saying the debate which preceded it had failed to answer the questions posed by the near-disaster in Africa.

The Times: "The debate on the central direction of the war came to its right and inevitable end in the Commons with the defeat of the no confidence motion. . . . This week's debate cannot win or lose the battle already in progress, but it can, and it may be hoped it will, communicate a new sense of urgency not only to the government but to the administration and factories, and bring nearer the day when a complaint will come from the German side that their armament is insufficient and their mechanical design outclassed."

The Daily Mail: "What the people want to know is the real reason for the reversal of the fair prospects which were officially held out a few weeks ago and on this vital point Mr. Churchill was not illuminating."

QUERY UNANSWERED

The Daily Herald: "It (the debate) has produced no constructive proposals to remedy our system of production and strategic direction to remedy the series of military misfortunes. . . . We still do not know the answer to Arthur Greenwood's question, 'What went wrong in Libya?'"

The News Chronicle: "What emerges from the debate is the need for the most ruthless re-examination of existing and forthcoming designs of armament and for greater imagination and foresight in all future specifications."

BAN RECRIMINATION

The Daily Express: "So two days of debate in Parliament takes its place in the formal procedure by which the British meet disaster. . . . It revealed some ignorance of production and strategic issues. Most of that ignorance. . . is inexcusable."

"The public will take the view that there is no time for any more recriminations. And the country will hope that in the future Parliament will reveal a surer understanding of the complex problems of war. The members have a duty to instruct themselves in the details of this gigantic task."

'Muddle and Disaster'

The Mirror (bitterest government critic): "After careful reading of Churchill's speech we still feel that no adequate explanation was given of the Libyan disaster. No explanation, for example, of the fall of Tobruk. He insists an unfavorable 'atmosphere' was created—was evident when he was in America—because 'disaffected sections' of the press or 'vulgar' critics in Parliament displayed disaffection or exercised their volubility. But surely it was events. It was the Tobruk muddle and disaster that changed the atmosphere; not the critics, no 'diatribes,' not the 'unbridled freedom of our parliamentary institutions.'"

Dominion to Pay
Butter Subsidy

OTTAWA (CP)—Producers will be paid a six-cents-a-pound subsidy on butterfat, effective next Monday. The Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced this is being done to stimulate production and avert a "threatened shortage" of butter next winter and in the following season.

The subsidy is equivalent to five cents a pound on creamery butter.

The Canadian Press has been informed that butter consumers of the Dominion would continue to have the protection of the 35-cent-a-pound price ceiling for another year, but prices paid to farmers for milk sent to creameries would be increased by bonuses. It was explained that the purpose was to make their returns more nearly in line with those of farmers whose milk is used for cheese.

PLAN CAMPAIGN

The board announced also that the federal agriculture department will launch a campaign to promote increased butter production, particularly in areas where the subsidy offers opportunities for greater output.

In addition, for the balance of this season, the dairy products board of the Department of Agriculture will stand prepared to support the market and maintain what is essentially a schedule of maximum prices at a level of two cents below the maximum prices already established by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, the announcement said.

At the same time, the board called on Canadians to eliminate all waste of butter in every kitchen and dining room.

GERMANS HAVE
NEW PLANE ENGINE

LONDON (CP)—The magazine Aeroplane says Germany has stolen a march on the world by producing the most advanced aircraft engine now in operation.

The engine, called a BMW-801, produces 1,500 horsepower for take-offs and 1,460 horsepower at 16,300 feet. A special cowling design probably gives it the equivalent of several hundred extra horsepower, Aeroplane says.

"We are likely to have a great deal of trouble with the new BMW-801 in new German airplanes in the future. It is already installed in the Focke Wulf-190," the magazine said.

Aeroplane ascribes the efficiency of the new motor to its success in reducing "drag" because of the special design of its cooling and cowling.

For Red Cross

Final returns of the recent Red Cross drive in British Columbia just released show the province as a whole exceeded its quota, subscriptions amounting to $901,790 against the assigned objective of $900,000.

"British Columbia can be complimented on having done a good job for the Red Cross," said H. R. Cottingham, chairman of the provincial campaign committee. "Victoria, Trail, Prince Rupert, Vernon, Kelowna, Kamloops, Alert Bay and Salmon Arm far exceeded their quotas."

Disease of the skin, lips and eyes in humans caused by a lack of riboflavin (vitamin B2) have been observed in southern states.

Auchinleck Strikes

BY THE SHEER IMPACT OF EVENTS we have discovered that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel is one of Hitler's most resourceful commanders; but impartial experts are not inclined to place General Sir Claude Auchinleck second to any Nazi genius. We should be able to take that estimate as correct. Despite the British commander-in-chief's difficult strategic situation in Egypt, aggravated by serious losses in men and material in the last two weeks of bitter fighting and retreat, General Auchinleck has shown his mettle in attack by his daring manoeuvre last night.

Nobody will be so foolish as to suggest that turning the tables on an army flushed with substantial and sustained victories implies the removal of the danger to Alexandria and the whole United Nations' position in the Middle East. What is worth noting at this stage, however, is the fact that General Auchinleck attacked flanks and rear of the Nazi and Italian forces and compelled them to withdraw sufficiently to give the defenders of Egypt a breathing space. This movement, if it did nothing more for the time being than change the tone of the news, emphasizes the reputation General Auchinleck has earned for himself. He is no slave to the orthodox; neither is Rommel. Thus, if reinforcements in sufficient volume to redress losses reach the British commander promptly, the disappointment of Tobruk's fall may yet be easier for him to bear.

Houses For Shipbuilders

THE ACTION OF THE CITY COUNCIL in rejecting the proposed agreement with Wartime Housing Ltd., involving construction of 100 houses in the James Bay district, leaves unsolved the housing problem affecting one of the major sections of the war emergency shipbuilding industry here.

For the shipbuilders the problem is acute. They are dependent on a supply of skilled labor, which, in these days, is more and more dependent on availability of suitable accommodation for workmen and their families. In the absence of such accommodation, it is becoming extremely difficult to get the workers desired and also more difficult to hold the workers already enlisted from quitting to go elsewhere. Such difficulties are apt to detract from the operating efficiency of the industry concerned and mitigate against any expansion.

There has been a fear that quickly-constructed houses of the type provided for in these housing projects would depreciate rapidly into a "shack town" and thus affect realty values in the surrounding district. There should be no grounds for such fear in the case of the James Bay project. For one thing, the area affected is adjacent to the shipbuilding yards and is already recognized as an industrial area. Also, it would be provided that the houses would be torn down when the emergency is passed, so that even at the worst, they would have only a temporary effect on the district as a whole. As to the character of the houses, there should be no objection, as they are similar to those already erected here at Esquimalt, on the B.C. mainland, and elsewhere in Canada where war industries have sprung up. They must necessarily be designed for quick as well as economical construction. In view of the temporary nature of the need they would fill, anything more would be unwarranted, especially at this time of shortages in materials and labor.

It is very much in the interests of the whole community, not to mention the national war effort, that everything be done to facilitate the operations of a major war industry, such as that of shipbuilding here. Under such circumstances the city council should be able to effect some arrangement to provide the housing for which the industry asks.

Lord Bennett Agitated

VISCOUNT BENNETT TOLD THE House of Lords yesterday that never in his life had he been so agitated and concerned about the future of the British Empire as in the last few days. Others no doubt share the former Canadian's apprehension; but, perhaps, from a more realistic point of view. Unlike His Lordship, they accept the fact that the imperial structure as a compartmentalized political and economic entity is undergoing a complete change; that it can never be the same again. The unfolding events since Sept. 3, 1939, and especially since Dec. 7, 1941, have taken a hand in the shaping of its ultimate destiny.

Can it be that Viscount Bennett is feeling the impact of the part Canada played in Empire relationships as they concerned the world outside the British family? Since his translation from Ottawa to Westminster he has seen many political chickens coming home to roost. He may perhaps have cast his mind back to the early '30s when he, as Prime Minister of this country, sought to revive, in a new form, the wholly-discredited Imperial Zollverein scheme which received its knockout blow from the British electorate in 1906. He surely has not forgotten that his sole idea 12 years ago, for example, was to "blast" Canada's way into the markets of the world by a species of fiscal threats that he should have known would produce boomerang repercussions—as they did.

Like the Bourbons, however, the Mr. Bennett of that day learned nothing from his experience; consequently he conceived the Ottawa Conference which concocted a set of arbitrary agreements whose purport and implication belonged to a less-enlightened age. Not only did those pacts seriously reduce Canada's external trade, they presented Great Britain with so many fiscal complications in her dealings with the scores of foreign countries upon whose good will and business she depended for her economic existence that her commercial envoys found themselves apologizing right and left for the business which the Empire statesmen transacted at Ottawa in 1932.

While it would be sheer nonsense to charge the present-day condition of the British Empire about which Viscount Bennett is so agitated and concerned to the tariff policies that Britain and her sister Dominions adopted 10 years ago, the fact remains that they were the products of special privilege—an effete political philosophy—and, as such, are on the debit side of Toryism's ledger. The basic economic aspects of the Atlantic Charter, of course, cut right across the old concept of Empire. But if Lord Bennett is worried about the changes the provisions of that document envisage, he has evidently not accurately interpreted the barometer of British public opinion as reflected in its new attitude toward a changed and rapidly-changing world.

'Celebrity Parade'

VICTORIA TODAY WELCOMES TALENTED and charming artists of the stage and screen whom Mr. Herbert Wilcox has brought to Canada in a gesture of good will that may not be measured in terms of intrinsic values. These good people have left their normal avocations for only that recompense which comes of the knowledge of service rendered to the cause to which free men and free women the world over have dedicated themselves. But their visit to Canada actually had a specific and vitally-important object: to assist a movement which has a more far-reaching implication than is generally understood by the public at large. It is to assist in raising funds for the Air Cadet League of Canada—and the response has been uniformly excellent.

The unique performance at the Royal Victoria Theatre tomorrow evening, moreover, should serve to impress upon the people of this community the meaning of the Air Cadet League. These youngsters, through the highly-enthusiastic co-operation of the school teachers and officers of the R.C.A.F., get a thorough training in the basic requirements demanded of all air force personnel. In other words, it is a pre-enlistment course, which means that on entering active service each cadet is fully-prepared "material" for the sterner business that awaits. It means, too, that he begins his advanced training thoroughly understanding what is expected of him as a man as well as an airman. Small wonder the government recognizes the Air Cadet League as one of the most valuable of Canada's auxiliaries in the Dominion's war potential. Thanks to the "Celebrity Parade" the public is learning much more about it.

War Teaches Us Much

STILL ANOTHER REVELATION OF what can be done without as the war imposes its exactions is reflected in the manner in which glass is replacing metals as a familiar domestic commodity. Man's ingenuity is finding many uses for the product which are astounding to those of us who are apt to think of glass as only a transparent, brittle material that has to be handled with the utmost care. But what do we find? Glass is replacing steel, tin, aluminum, synthetic plastics, cork, asbestos, silk, rubber, nickel, copper, to mention only a few strategic materials. It is being used to reinforce concrete, to cover the wings of training planes, for paratroops—the details of which, of course, are a military secret—for barriers, prisons, for plumbing-pipes. Out of the expedients forced by war's necessity, we may expect many permanent changes in postwar fashion and usage.

Notes

Bad news always looks much worse coming than going.

Business in war material production is better, but it still cannot get along without help—your help.

Elmer Davis, as Winchell has put it, is missed on the radio network, as his dry tones had a debunking magic that ruined Nazi lies with merely an infection.

THIS SITUATION IS INTOLERABLE

From Financial Post
It is to be hoped that the Dominion government will act quickly and effectively in enforcing full production in British Columbia shipyards. Here, within less than 100 miles of an actual torpedoing, and a shelling, some yards have been dallying along on a single eight-hour shift, six days a week. While American shipyards have now speeded production to a point where a 10,000-ton freighter can be built in 60 days, and one Canadian west coast yard has done the job in under 80, at least one B.C. shipyard has taken over six months for the same job.

The greatest need of the United Nations today is more ships. Without them the huge armament production of the United States and Britain will be of no avail. We must stop Japan and Germany on the far side of the Atlantic and Pacific, not wait until we are attacked on our own shores.

We cannot afford to have steel, engines and other valuable equipment tied up one minute longer than is absolutely necessary.

Bruce Hutchison

ALWAYS DOES

THE familiar phenomenon of North American opinion is now clear again. Having risen to a wild state of optimism a few weeks ago because the Japanese lost some aircraft carriers, it has now sunk down to something like 70 degrees below zero because of the disasters in Africa.

One knew this would happen. It always does. But what makes us on this continent more mercurial than the people of many other places—the British, for instance, and the Germans and the Chinese—it is difficult to say. Some scientist may be able to prove in time that there is a nervous tension in the air of America, a kind of subtle human electricity which acts upon the human spirit, just as ordinary electricity in a dry country will make sparks when you touch a metal object. It may be discovered in time that the high plateau which covers most of America and contains most of its inhabitants, is of an elevation to create a certain rarity of atmosphere so that the people are more jittery, more nervous than those who dwell by the sea; just as you will find everyone in Calgary or Winnipeg far more energetic, lively and tense than we, the calm dwellers of the coastal shelf.

DIN

But it may be that the explanation of the great American disease of jitters is purely synthetic, man-made and recent. It may be due entirely to the fashion of our life and the constant parade of sensation. Day after day, hour after hour, we are assaulted by movies, radios, magazines and newspapers. Acting and reacting on one another the emissions of these several organs create a constant state of excitement; whereas a more primitive people, hearing little news, or at least hearing only one story and not a continual conflict of stories and a constant clash of news, goes along quietly.

Where the least change in the war situation is thundered at us within the hour, where the least change of fashion is thrust at us in the magazines, where the least change of slang is hurled at us from the movie screen, a more backward people only hear about these things after some lapse and then in a more gentle fashion. I do not mean by this that the British are backward or lack all the marvelous appurtenances of modern civilization, but they lived their lives and formed their characters in a slower school long ago, whereas the American is typically a product of the fast, noisy, and jittery machine age.

MOB

There is great danger to democracy in the unstable state of the public mind on our continent, for its constant fluctuations force Parliaments, Congresses and Governments to change their policies almost by the hour. The Gallup Poll is a reflection of this fact. Through it North America is constantly taking its temperature, looking at its tongue, consulting its doctor and imagining it is suffering from all kinds of curious diseases. Moreover, the changing mood of the public is thus exalted out of all sense of proportion; for democracy does not consist—or it ought not to consist—of daily yielding to the mood of the mob, but only of the election of a people's government which in general has the people's confidence and then does what it pleases.

The trend in America, on the contrary, through straw votes, and through the modern technique of pressure groups operating on Parliament and Congress, is to force them to alter their policy and change their minds every day. Hence the varying and staggering course of President Roosevelt's policy from the start, and the wonder is that he has been able to maintain even a general direction. Hence also Mr. King's almost total lack of policy in many important matters for many years. Hence the fact that the American Congress is afraid at the moment to adopt such urgent measures as gasoline rationing—because there is a Congressional election coming up in November.

LITTLE KNOWLEDGE

It is the old story of a little knowledge being a dangerous thing. If we were a people in North America who really understood our own business, our public affairs, we could erect an almost flawless democracy, with our present means of conveying information. Instead, however, we do not absorb information itself, but only the froth on the top of information. The really serious business of the state is too dull for the ordinary mind to follow. It asks that this business be distilled into a kind of cheap perfume and distributed, freely and painlessly, by radio announcers and newsmen and slick articles in the slick magazines—over-simplified, jazzed up, and highly colored like a cocktail.

The result is not knowledge but stimulation; not a sound, firm public opinion but a nervous hysteria. And when events are happening rapidly, when our fortunes are fluctuating, when we need to stand firm and not get excited, we act like a girl at a cocktail party—all laughter and gaiety at the beginning and maudlin tears and lamentations on the way home.

We are constantly hearing about a great flood of synthetic rubber just around the corner. The same corner, we suspect, which hid prosperity for so long some years ago.

Parallel Thoughts

But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.—I Peter 1:25.

A Better Post-War World? Bennett Joins Tory Antis

From Financial Post

A few weeks ago Viscount Bennett made a speech in London in which he envisioned the restoration after the war of "The United States of the British Empire," based upon imperial preferences. He seemed to despair of achieving an "international economy."

There are certain groups in Britain who hold similar views: who feel that Empire tariffs must again be the main thread in the fiscal pattern of all the commonwealth countries. The Empire Industries Association, headed by Lord Croft and Col. Amery, both members of the Churchill ministry, preaches this view. It warns repeatedly of the threats it sees inherent in the Atlantic Charter and the subsequent lease-lend agreement (which reiterated the trade policies of the Atlantic Charter). It argues, in its latest bulletin, that Canada, the other dominions and the "colonial Empire" need the protection of imperial preferences. In the case of Canada it suggests that the alternative would be "an eventual domination of the Dominion by the republic by sheer weight of numbers and financial strength."

Such discussions can only serve the purpose of building up distrust in the economic objectives and political objectives of the United States. They suggest that the American trend away from prohibitory tariffs does not represent a genuine repentance by Washington.

Such an economic clash between the Empire and the United States is a possibility; but a remote one. It need never come into being. Britain and the United States have subscribed jointly to a declaration, in which they undertake, after the war, to promote all those policies which promise "a betterment of world-wide economic relations," including "the elimination of all forms of discriminatory treatment in international commerce, the reduction of tariffs and other barriers."

This should be the policy of all the English-speaking nations. By their leadership they can bring the world to economic sanity, thus reducing some of the major causes of war.

The Financial Post has always believed that implicit in imperial preference should be these understandings:

1. That imperial preference is not to be regarded as a scheme for building up British industry while keeping the overseas dominions as raw material and food producers only.

2. That imperial preferences should be contrived to free trade rather than to bind it.

3. That the ultimate aim should be to bring into this expanding free-trading area the United States, as soon as it was ready to abandon its policies of prohibitive tariffs.

American policy under Hull and Roosevelt has undergone a complete reversal. Today the United States is reaching out a friendly hand of economic co-operation to the Empire and to the whole world. The hand should be grasped.

For the old-fashioned type of imperialism to preach the doctrine of a closed economic preserve at the very time when the United States stands ready to join with us in a post-war policy of unloosening the shackles on commerce is block-headed jingoism to which Canada should not be a party.

Oak Bay Advances Playground Scheme

Playground supervision organization was undertaken in Oak Bay this week and an executive committee of nine drafted a program and arranged details at a meeting this morning.

Tuesday afternoon, at a public meeting in the municipal hall, decision was reached to proceed with organization of the scheme.

A committee was appointed under the chairmanship of T. S. Whittemore. Others members are Mrs. G. Bewley, Mrs. H. A. Beckwith, Chief of Police Hugh Reston, Mrs. J. M. Gelling, Mrs. A. Gordon, Bob Smith, W. T. Stanyon and Raymond Jones.

The group decided to ask the municipal council to underwrite a budget of 300, with provision made for voluntary subscriptions. Immediately following Tuesday's meeting $60 was received in personal cheques towards the fund.

While details have yet to be worked out, supervision will probably be given for craft work in the Willows Park and athletic activity in the Oak Bay High School grounds or Windsor Park. Voluntary assistance was offered by Mrs. W. W. Bell on behalf of the St. John Ambulance Association and by Mrs. H. S. Jones for folk dancing. Mrs. Gelling suggested splint making might be undertaken by boys as a craft study of value to the district.

Soldiers Guests At Rotary Luncheon

In accordance with the Army Week program approximately 40 soldiers were the guests and entertainers of the Rotary Club at their regular luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel Thursday.

Under the direction of Sgt. Paul Michelin, the soldiers led sing-songs, sang vocals and did novelty numbers. Dave Shepherd, one-time member of the Times editorial staff, who has just returned from two years of duty overseas, played a solo on his accordion.

Pte. Betty Fawcett, among the guests of the luncheon, presented several vocal solos.

Thanking the soldiers for their entertainment, president Ab Lindsay presented each of the performers with a gift on behalf of the club.

Examiners Start On School Papers

A corps of 97 examiners today started marking papers of 3,235 high school students, who wrote senior and university examination papers in all parts of B.C. last month.

Papers are being marked at Victoria College and results of the examinations will be announced in about three weeks. Of the total writing, 765 are senior matriculation and 2,470 university entrance.

Marking the papers are university, college and high school teachers, while some college students are doing the objective work.

Investigates Murder

Games Warden Alexander advised Provincial Police headquarters today that he was leaving Fort St. James for Fort St. John to investigate a reported murder at the latter place on Monday last. No further details were given.

Consecration of the newly-elected Bishop of Cariboo, Rev. Samuel Pollinger, rector of St. Paul's Church, Kamloops, July 22. Assisting the archbishop, it is expected, will be the bishops of Caledonia, Columbia, New Westminster and Edmonton, together with Archbishop de Penier and Bishop Jenkins, lately of Nevada, U.S.A. All intending to be present are asked to apply to Rev. T. Dale Jones, Nicola Street West, Kamloops, before July 15.

Is YOURS a "high pressure" JOB?

"Rushing defense plans takes it out of you," says this expert draftsman, "and bending over a drafting board all day isn't much exercise. But I keep fit. No harsh cathartics! This is my plan. I start every day in the year with a bowl of delicious Kellogg's Bran Flakes. They taste so good I'd eat them anyway... and they certainly help me do my job!"

CAN YOU AFFORD TIME-WASTING ERRORS?

KEEP FIT WITH KELLOGG'S
every day in the year!

Don't let that dull, "thick-headed" feeling cause you to make mistakes no matter how tense and confining your job may be, or how little real exercise it allows you. Follow these two rules of health: (1) To get well, see your doctor; (2) To keep well, watch your habits! Make especially sure that elimination is complete! But avoid harsh cathartics! Start the day with a crisp, delicious bowlful of gently laxative Kellogg's Bran Flakes With Other Parts Of Wheat. Do it every day in the year! They help supply valuable minerals and proteins, too. Ask your grocer for the golden-yellow package; it now comes in two convenient sizes. Or in restaurants, order the individual package with the inner, WAXTITE, sealed bag. Made by Kellogg's in London, Canada.

St. John's A.Y.P.A.

St. John's A.Y.P.A. held a business meeting at the Victoria High School grounds Tuesday evening to discuss and plan summer activities. A program for the month of July was lined up as follows: July 5, Corporate Communion and fellowship breakfast; July 7, bike hike to Thetis Lake, swimming, members to meet at the corner of Hillside and Douglas at 7:15; July 14, social at home of Doug Crowe; July 21, bike hike and swimming at Cadboro Bay; July 28, roller skating party. Those appointed on the committee of arrangements were Wendy Perkins, Doug Crowe, Eileen Ellis, Jack Sutton and Cora Manton. At the time of the first World War, cellophane was a luxury item, reserved for such exotic tasks as wrapping perfume bottles.

Japs Problem Of All Canada, Says MacInnis

OTTAWA (CP)—Admiration of the government's handling of the Japanese problem in British Columbia and an appeal for recognition of the rights of Canadian-born Japanese were expressed in the House of Commons Thursday by Angus MacInnis, C.C.F., Vancouver East, speaking in the budget debate.

"Administration of the transfer of Japanese from the British Columbia coast, directed by Labor Minister Mitchell, had been 'one of the biggest war jobs that any department has had to handle,' and had been handled 'in a very efficient way,' he said.

"We have the uprooting and removal of nearly 25,000 people, and these people are being removed from that area with a population that is sometimes verging on hysterical snapping at their heels, as it were."

The Japanese were not a problem of British Columbia alone, but of the whole of Canada and should be so recognized, he said. "The point is that a great many of these people are Canadian citizens, no matter what color their skins may be, and they should be accorded the treatment that would be accorded a Canadian citizen whose skin is white."

Mr. MacInnis presented the experience of a young Japanese, George C. Tamaki, born in New Westminster, an honor graduate of the University of British Columbia, and a class leader and prize winner at Dalhousie Law School, Halifax, where he obtained his law degree in 1941.

This young man had been refused admission to the bar of Nova Scotia because the "international situation" was such that this was deemed inadvisable, Mr. MacInnis said, reading a letter from the Nova Scotia Barristers' Society.

"What has the international situation to do with a loyal Canadian citizen, born and educated in Canada, if he is dealing with reasonable people who have the least spark of British traditions in their make-up?" Mr. MacInnis asked.

The same young man had tried to enlist but so far had not been told whether he would or would not be accepted.

NOVA SCOTIA REPLY
HALIFAX (CP)—H. P. McKee, K.C., president of the Nova Scotia Barristers' Association, replying to the statement made in the House of Commons by Angus MacInnis, said:

"Both Mr. MacInnis and Mr. Tamaki (the Japanese) are residents of British Columbia. I understand this province (British Columbia) does not allow the entrance to the bar of Japanese under any circumstances. Mr. MacInnis should concern himself with this situation before turning his attention to Nova Scotia."

TOWN TOPICS

A total of $56.02 has been collected by Joe North during the first part of Army Week, for the Solarium.

Considerable damage but no personal injuries were caused when a car driven by Thomas Scouler, 1928 Bowker Avenue, and S. H. Flower, R.C.N., collided at the corner of Niagara and Government Streets at 1:40 Thursday.

A coroner's jury Thursday brought in a verdict of accidental death in the case of Thomas Alexander, 83, who died in the Jubilee Jubilee Sunday evening, two days after he had severely injured himself when he fell down a flight of steps in the Naval Veterans' Club.

Closing dinner of the Victoria Venture Club was held Monday evening at the Wishbone, followed by a theatre party. The instrument sterilizer purchased by the club for the Queen Alexandra Solarium is gratefully acknowledged. Business meetings will resume first Wednesday in September.

LAND REVENUE OFF

Cash receipts from the city lands department for the first half of this year stand at $64,199 against $104,979 for the similar period in 1941, according to a statement from the department today.

During June they amounted to $13,108, compared to $16,912 in 1941.

Sales for June, amounting to $6,115, stand well ahead of June, 1941's $4,350, although only eight parcels were sold against 12 in that month last year.

During the year to date 73 parcels have been sold for $37,810 against 191 for $74,919 during the first half of 1941.

LIEUT. E. B. CORBY, who arrived in England with the last contingent of Canadians, attached to C.A.R.U. No. 1. His younger brother, "Sergeant" Alaric H. Corby, has been with the Canadian Forestry Corps in Great Britain for the last 18 months. They are the sons of W.O.1 Sgt-Major P.E. Corby, a member of the Corps of Military Staff Clerks at M.D. No. 11, who is among those being transferred from Work Point Barracks to Vancouver this week.

Club Hears McKelvie

Bruce McKelvie was the speaker at the seventh anniversary meeting of the Government Printing Crafts and Social Club. The meeting opened with a short business session, with Miss Lillian Parfitt in the chair. Frank Humphrey of the war effort committee presented a report of the activities of his group.

Mr. McKelvie spoke on "Horse and Buggy Days," and painted a vivid picture of life in the "good old days," when the livery stable, the old-time barber shop and the general store were the centre of the community, and where all the most serious problems were thrashed out around the cracker barrel.

The musical portion of the program consisted of Miss Grace Hamp, vocal solos; Staff-Sgt. Bob Townsend, piano-accompaniment; J. W. Bow, cornet, and Miss Kathleen Willard and Theo Bayles, pupils of Miss Betty Clair, tap dancing. Mrs. G. H. E. Green, Gerry Schofield and R. D. Mylrea acted as accompanists for the evening.

During the refreshment hour a cake with seven candles was brought in and C. F. Banfield, as honorary president and founder of the club, spoke a few words on the history of the club and its aims. The King's Printer orchestra, under the direction of R. D. Mylrea, rendered musical numbers.

Omission of Town Didn't Stop Letter

At least one Victoria household is convinced postal authorities in B.C. are on their toes. Thursday Mrs. R. Fernyhough of 422 Boleas Road received a letter from her son Richard in England, where, as Sgt. Pilot R. Fernyhough he is serving with an R.C.A.F. bomber squadron.

The letter was mailed June 19 which makes its transit of ocean and continent just two weeks. The time set no record but what was unusual was the fact the letter was addressed "422 Boleas Road, B.C.," no town being mentioned. It was delivered correctly with no delay.

Sgt. Pilot Fernyhough was mentioned in a Canadian Press dispatch this week as having just taken part in his first bombing raid.

The city building inspector's department Thursday issued a permit for $2,500 improvements to the K. of C. hotel at 732 Cormorant Street, covering extension of present kitchen space, construction of a new kitchen and installation of shower facilities in the basement. United Church of Canada is listed as owner.

Gosnell, B.C., Woman Forced Japs to Retreat

OTTAWA (CP)—T. J. O'Neill, Liberal member of the House of Commons for Kamloops, says the woman who used a rifle to stop a group of Japanese during a recent disturbance at Gosnell, B.C., was Miss Ella Frye of Gosnell.

Mr. O'Neill described the incident in the House of Commons

Monday, but did not name Miss Frye.

He said Thursday night that information reaching him was that there were six or seven Japanese men in the party which approached the house where Miss Frye was alone. Miss Frye took a 30-30 rifle from the wall and told the men if they advanced another step she would shoot.

A letter to Mr. O'Neill recounting the incident described it as "the first Japanese retreat recorded in British Columbia."

WEDDINGS

CORBETT—MASTERS

Central Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday evening, June 27, at 8, when Gertrude May Ndola, only daughter of Mr. H. Masters, Happy Valley, and the late Mrs. Masters, became the bride of Pte. Samuel Andrew Robert Corbett, R.C.A.C., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. D. Corbett, of Fort William, Ont. The church was decorated by girl friends of the bride with a profusion of summer flowers. Rev. J. B. Rowell performed the marriage ceremony. Miss Phyllis Hick played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register Miss Ruth Penman sang the solo "Thy Will For Them."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown, inset with lace, and long pointed sleeves. Her embroidered veil of bridal net was held in place with orange blossoms to form a train and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations. Miss Tena McLeod as bridesmaid wore a gown of blue flowered organza, with matching headdress and long blue mittens. She carried a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas and delphinium. The groom was supported by his brother, Rev. D. A. Corbett, of Corvallis, Montana, U.S.A., and the ushers were Cpl. H. Hussey and Albert McCarthy.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sloan, 517 Cecilia Street, the rooms being prettily arranged with summer flowers.

Mrs. Masters welcomed the guests in a gown of delphinium blue crepe, with matching hat and a corsage bouquet of pink sweet heart roses and carnations, assisted by Mrs. D. A. Corbett, sister-in-law of the groom, in a floor-length gown of dusty rose, with navy blue hat and corsage of pink carnations. Supper was served from a table centred with the three-tiered wedding cake, with white tapers in silver candlesticks at either end. Assisting in serving were the Misses Grace Rowell, Ruth Freeman, Carol Richards, Florence Gordon and Joan Frewing.

Other out-of-town guests included Mr. Ross P. Corbett of Fort William, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Corbett left for Brandon, Man., the bride traveling in a powder blue dress, topped with a rose coat and hat, with beige accessories.

YOUNG—HARRISON

Younger member of a well-known Vancouver Island judiciary family, Olga Althea, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Paul Phillips Harrison of Nanaimo, and granddaughter of the late Judge Eli Harrison and Mrs. Harrison of Victoria, became the bride of Cpl. Cyril Young, R.C.A.F., of Winnipeg, at Christ Church Cathedral, June 24, Dean S. H. Elliott officiating.

The bride's two-piece honey-beige crepe frock topped its knife-pleated skirt with a bodice embroidered in shades of blue, pink and green, the blue repeated in floral trim and veiling of dusky pink hat. Accessories were in beige and pink tones, while the corsage were gardenias and tall-moss roses.

Mrs. D. J. Shand was her sister's attendant and wore a delf blue redingote with trapunto-worked embroidery bodice. Her white hat was a shepherdess model and accessories and flowers, white also. Mr. Fred Young of Vancouver was his brother's best man.

Following a reception in the Duke of Kent suite of the Empress Hotel, Mr. and Mrs. Young left for Qualicum Beach, the latter adding a beige topcoat to her wedding ensemble for travel wear. They will reside at Queen's Court, May Street, Victoria.

SMITH—SWAIN

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Green, 1326 Vimy Street, was the scene of a quiet wedding Thursday evening when their cousin, Miss Elinor Margaret Swain, became the bride of Mr. John Cecil Smith, Comox, V.I. The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Swain of Brantford, Ont., and a popular member of the Schubert Club, having frequently appeared as a mezzo-soprano soloist at its recitals. The groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Horace Smith, of Derbyshire, England.

The rooms were gay with Canterbury bells and campanula, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. John Turner between stands and baskets of Madonna lilies. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Pierre Timp, and as the register was being signed Mr. Timp sang "Sylvia," and other solos during the reception.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. R. D. Swain, wore a navy redingote over an ashen of roses dress, with navy accessories and a corsage bouquet of deep red roses. Miss Lillian McLeod, Nanaimo, V.I., attended the bride, wearing an Alice blue ensemble with a pink hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink sweet peas, and Mr. Harry Sparks was groomsmen.

Relatives and a few intimate friends were welcomed by Mrs. Paul Green, wearing a gown of French blue sheer trimmed with blue braid studded with silver beads, a blue hat and a corsage bouquet of gardenias. She was assisted by Mrs. Harry Sparks in a gown of delphinium crepe, with a corsage bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas. The bride's cake, topped with sweetheart roses, centred a table flanked with ivory tapers, and at either end a crystal swan holding a single rose was posed on a mirror base.

For a honeymoon up-land and to the interior of British Columbia, the bride left wearing a navy blue fitted coat over her wedding ensemble. Mr. and Mrs. Smith will make their home up-land.

WATSON—WRIGHT

Christ Church, Edmonton, was the scene of a quiet wedding Wednesday, June 24, when Gwendolyn Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Dolby Wright, Poul Bay Road, Victoria, became the bride of Mr. John J. Watson of Winnipeg, formerly of Ottawa and Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wentworth Watson of Eganville, Ont. Rev. B. S. Otley officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother and looked smart in a two-piece afternoon frock of Elizabeth blue, complemented with accessories, hat, gloves, shoes in champagne color. Her corsage bouquet was of pink roses. Mrs. William Robertson of Vancouver, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a leaf-green afternoon frock complemented by pink-rose accessories. Her flowers were tear-roses. Mr. Hillock of Calgary was best man, and at the reception held later in the drawing room of the Macdonald Hotel he proposed the toast to the bride.

The table was arranged with roses and sweet peas, centred by the wedding cake. Mrs. R. M. Moore of Edmonton presided at the coffee urn.

After a honeymoon trip to eastern Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Watson will make their home in Winnipeg.

youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bradley, Victoria, took place in the Church of Our Lord Monday evening, Canon E. V. Bird officiating. Summer flowers decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white net with puff sleeves and sweetheart neckline, her long veil falling from a coronet of net and orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and sweet peas. Her sisters were attendants, Mrs. C. Bardsley in pale pink or-gandie, with puff sleeves, and Miss Doris Campbell in pale blue chiffon, with long sleeves. Both wore net headresses to match their frocks, trimmed with forget-me-nots, and carried bouquets of carnations and sweet peas. TIPS on the new RAYONS

The new rayon stockings are lovely—every bit as glamorous as silk—BUT you must give them gentle care!

1. When you buy be sure of foot and length measurements.
2. Put them on carefully—just as you did your precious silk ones.
3. Don't use harsh soaps—don't rub or twist them. That weakens delicate threads and results in runs.
4. Do dip them in lukewarm Lux suds the minute you take them off. This saves elasticity—helps them to fit better.
5. When drying gently squeeze out moisture. Don't wring! Then roll them in a turkish towel.
6. Don't use clothespins! Hang over a smooth rod, away from heat and sun.
7. Dry thoroughly. Leave them a full day after you've dipped them before you put them on again. Rayons are stronger when perfectly dry.

For longer wear, dip your rayon or bengberg stockings in LUX after each wearing. Lux whisks away harmful perspiration which rots delicate threads. Lux cuts down embarrassing, costly runs.

'Babies of Britain' Gifts Bring Joy To Poor Mothers

The "Babies of Britain Club" which has within its working ranks many knitters and sewers from the Parliament Buildings, as well as interested friends outside, is feeling much encouraged by the receipt of a letter from Mrs. Brinley Richards of London, England, to whom the monthly parcels are sent.

The following extracts were attached to Mrs. Brinley Richards' letter, expressing individual appreciation of the regular and unsolicited monthly contribution made so generously and faithfully by each member of the club.

LINK WITH OVERSEAS

Each consignment seems to contain more beautiful and wonderful clothes than the previous one and I cannot tell you how grateful we are to you for your help, and also the mothers who receive your lovely garments. I am enclosing some extracts from letters thanking you and us for the clothes, so that you will see how welcome your gifts always are, and how grateful we are to the members. It is lovely to have such a link overseas with the Dominion of Canada, and one day perhaps we may all meet.

"I am writing to say how thankful I am to you for those beautiful baby clothes and also my heartfelt thanks to the people of British Columbia for sending them here. I am ever so grateful to them."

"I want to thank you for the wonderful present of baby clothes you gave me. All I can say is, 'God bless you and the ladies of British Columbia.' I have not been well so could not answer before. Kindly forgive me, and thank you again."

FAMILY OF 15

"I wish on behalf of my wife and myself to thank you for making us such a glorious gift of babies' clothes, and we also wish to thank the people of Canada with all our hearts for making such a gift possible. As I already have eight children at home out of a family of 15, we find it hard in these times to make ends meet, and we are more than grateful to all the people for their kindness to us. In these times it does us good to know we have got people willing to help others, thanking you all once again."

"What a thrill to open that big parcel! and what a pleasure to find all the useful things in it. The lovely blankets are welcome, especially that in a few weeks my little wee man will be in his 'playing pen.' Every bit of that parcel is most useful and how I thank you for it."

One of the distribution centres writes: "We are finding all the things so useful, and it is such a help to our mothers to get the baby things in these difficult days. We have a little mother who has twin sons, now four months old, and she is very bravely keeping them. They are in a home in Hampstead and their mother is back at work. She is really a girl who deserves help, so if you should have any garments which you can spare for her I am sure she would be most grateful. With many thanks for all your kindness."

"Thank you indeed for your kind offer of baby clothes. There seems to be quite a number of 'first babies' coming to town! I have two on my list now, both good and needy cases, who have made very little if any preparation. I shall be very grateful for any things you can send me in

Catholic League's Convention Off

OTTAWA (CP)—Ishbel Hutton, national convener of publicity for the Catholic Women's League of Canada, said last night the league's national convention which was to have been held in Edmonton, has been canceled and will be replaced by a statutory meeting of the national board in Montreal July 10-12.

Miss Hutton said the league felt it was not advisable to hold the national convention this year because of war conditions.

ST. MARTIN'S PICNIC

The annual picnic of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields Sunday school was held last Saturday at Willows Beach. Sea bathing was indulged in during the forenoon, and after lunch sports were held, also a treasure hunt. Ice cream was served to the children and parents. Rev. and Mrs. K. L. Sandercock attended and participated in the fun. Mrs. Cornwall, Sunday school superintendent, presented prizes to sports winners.

Club Honors Soldiers

The Lions Club of Victoria did its bit for Army Week Thursday by having members of the army as their guests at their regular luncheon meeting in Spencer's dining-room.

City delegates who attended the recent international convention in Vancouver, presented an outline of the affair to the members. Cups won by members in Vancouver at the Lions golf tournament were on display.

Election of officers was postponed. W. J. R. Peers, president-elect, was in the chair.

The ladies of the Open Door Spiritualist Church will hold a silver tea in the hall, 714 Cornorant Street, Saturday afternoon from 2.30 till 5. Mrs. Swan and Mrs. Sweeney will be hostesses; Mrs. David Soule, reader.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

Citizen Army in Spotlight Today

Today, the "Army Week" spotlight focuses on Canada's Reserve Army—on the citizen soldiers who have willingly given up former leisure time to don battle dress and train for the defence of our homes.

Honor them all! Professional man and factory worker, business man and tradesman, they stand shoulder to shoulder in the ranks, dedicated to keeping Canada free. The spirit of the Canadian Reserve Army is a challenge to all of us who remain civilians. It is a challenge to work as we have never worked before, to invest in War Savings Stamps and Certificates to the very last penny that can be spared. It is up to us to see that every Canadian soldier, Active or Reserve, has the weapons and equipment he needs. More than that, it is our duty to make the Canadian soldier the best-armed and best-equipped fighting man in the world.

WILL SPEAK ON AIR

Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Boate, 2591 Estevan Avenue, have received word by mail that their son, Frank William Arnott-Boate, overseas, will broadcast over the network of the CBC Tuesday night, July 7 at 10:45.

Dr. L. Vance Macdonald Reported Missing

EDMONTON (CP)—Capt. L. Vance Macdonald, son of Dr. and Mrs. Forrester Macdonald of Edmonton, is missing after air operations in the Middle East on June 14, it was stated in a telegram received by his parents Thursday.

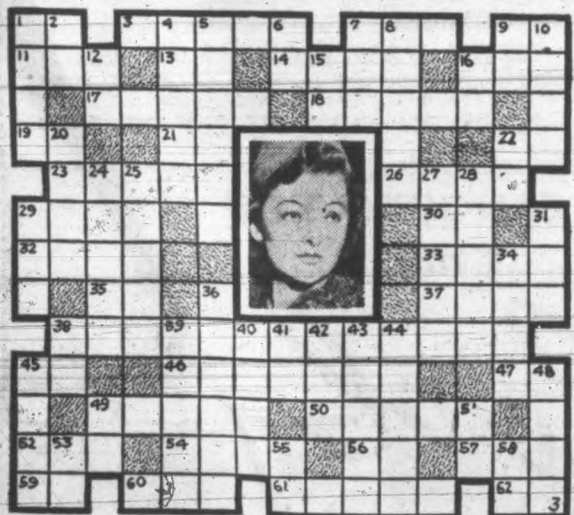

After graduating in medicine from the University of Alberta, Dr. Macdonald went to England in 1937 to study for his fellowship in surgery. While in Britain he was appointed to accompany the Duke and Duchess of Sutherland on a world cruise.

When war was declared the cruising party returned to England and Capt. Macdonald enlisted in the 149th Field Ambulance, Royal Army Medical Corps. He went to France and later Belgium and was wounded in the evacuation from Dunkerque. For the past year he had been serving in the Middle East and other countries.

Receives Wings

JACK DRAKE

J. E. "Jack" Drake, son of C. W. Drake, 1033 Inverness Road, received his pilot's wings in the latest graduation ceremony at No. 12 service flying training school at Brandon, Thursday. Jack was a former employee of the Times advertising department, taking leave of absence last year when he went into training with the R.C.A.F.

British Columbia graduates followed: Clare Atkinson, Kelowna; R. G. Curry, West Vancouver; Walter Devoson, Sidney; J. K. Fairbairn, Comox; J. E. Drake, Victoria; S. W. Gerard and J. W. Mathers, both of Vancouver; C. E. Robin, South Hazelton, and D. L. Thompson, Vanderhoof.

They'll Do It Every Time

Glass That Floats Now Replaces Cork

PITTSBURGH — Breaking a bottle-neck caused by the shortage of cork, a new kind of glass that floats on water is about to be used in life preservers, life rafts and lifeboats of America's war effort.

It is a black, non-transparent material that does not at all look like ordinary glass. Weighing only 10 pounds per cubic foot, Foamglas, as it has been named, is being produced in a large factory in western Pennsylvania by the Pittsburgh Corning Corporation.

The new floating glass has a cellular structure, but each tiny cell is airtight. For that reason the material is permanently buoyant in water and has high insulating value. It is rigid rather than resilient, and can be sawed or drilled with ordinary tools.

It is expected to serve in place of such scarce imported materials as balsa wood, cellular rubber and kapok as well as cork. Foamglas has the added advantages of being odorless, fireproof and vermin-proof.

The light-weight glass is made by a process that resembles the way in which yeast or baking powder raises bread. Ordinary glass is mixed with a small quantity of pure carbon. When the glass is heated to a certain point it softens and the carbon combines to form a gas that puffs up the molten mass to 1-15th the weight of ordinary glass. Exact time and temperature control is necessary to obtain rigid vitreous slabs with cells uniformly small and sealed one from another.

Since 1936 this new product has been under development in the research laboratories of Pittsburgh Corning Corporation, jointly owned by Pittsburgh Plate Glass Corporation and Corning Glass Works.

In addition to going to sea as the buoyant element in life-saving apparatus, the new glass is to be marketed as insulation in the cold rooms of meat-packing plants, breweries, dairies and ice-cream plants. It will also be used in floats that support pontoon bridges.

Don't be the missing man.

Nazis Develop Big New Guns

BERNE, Switzerland. (AP)—Two new, huge guns, one 24 inches and the other 28 inches, and a railway gun as "big as a villa" have been shown in German news reels as major weapons in the German success against Sevastopol, the Berlin correspondent of Die Tat reports.

The dispatch related how a man easily crawled into the biggest gun.

The railway gun was said to be 26 feet to 32 feet high with a barrel 98 feet long and a shell of about 27 inches.

The Berlin radio has described the railway gun as having "so to speak, two stories, shells and cartridges being hoisted to the upper floor... the size of the shells and the length of the cartridges reveal that these guns surpass anything used in the last World War."

Victorians Broadcast

The CBC will carry messages from these Arctics boys over the week-end. P. O. J. W. Bell, who has been on a number of operational flights over Germany, will be heard Saturday afternoon at 2 over the "Gentlemen With Wings" program. T. Pat Hogan at 3 over "Troop Time" broadcast, and L.A.C. Bob J. Gornall Sunday morning at 9:30 on the "Greetings From the Beaver Club" program.

Summer Shoe Sales Mustn't Say 'Rubber'

To assist retailers in clearing their stocks of summer footwear, E. G. Burton, retail trade administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, announces that the controller of supplies has ruled that during July and August retail stores are permitted to display in store windows an otherwise advertise summer footwear with crepe, rubber or composition soles, including bathing shoes and summer sport shoes.

Retailers must at the same time refrain from using the word "rubber" in all advertising copy; also one sister, Alice, in Victoria.

The body is resting at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Scintillating Star Here

MISS ANNA NEAGLE

This beautiful star of Hollywood, Broadway and London stages, who arrived here today with "Celebrity Parade," a cast of distinguished actors and actresses, will appear at the Royal Victoria Theatre Saturday night in a theatrical extravaganza, accompanied by the R.C.A.F. orchestra in aid of the Air Marshal Bishop fund for the Air Cadet League of Canada.

Provincial and civic dignities, headed by Premier John Hart and Mayor Andrew McGavin, officials of the Air Cadet League and officers representing the navy and the army, were on hand to greet the talented company. Smartly uniformed air cadets formed a guard of honor.

After a brief reception at the C.P.R. docks, the party was driven by coach and four to the Empress Hotel, where another reception was held.

organization within its borders," she said.

The organizations have already made, she said, a contribution to winning the war and later to planning the future.

TOURS DIFFICULT

H. S. Pringle of Victoria, reading the honorary secretary-treasurer's report, said the war had made it more and more difficult to arrange itineraries for Canadian Club speakers and often tours had been arranged, the various clubs notified, only to have the speakers cancel the speaking tours because they were engaged in war work.

"The war situation has also had the effect of interfering with the normal activities of many of the individual clubs," Mr. Pringle said. "The outbreak of war with Japan and the consequent blackout requirements in December and January necessitated cancellations and changes of meetings, particularly on Vancouver Island. However, out of a total of 90 meetings offered to the clubs, 60 meetings were actually arranged."

Mr. Pringle mentioned as an outstanding success the tour of Dan McCowan, traveler and photographer. Net receipts of $436 from the lectures were donated to the Red Cross Society, Queen's Canadian Fund, Mobile Canteen Fund and other patriotic organizations.

Delegates to the meeting included: Mrs. Charles Newby, Chilliwack; M. J. Walton, Vancouver; A. W. Fisher, Vancouver; Mrs. L. M. Dryden, Vancouver; Mrs. W. P. MacDonald, Nanaimo; Mrs. W. B. Milne, Nanaimo; Mrs. A. F. Matthews, Kamloops; A. Playfair, Qualicum; Mrs. M. Dopson, Alberni; Mrs. D. A. Girvin, Duncan; G. H. Gowan, Victoria; Mrs. H. L. Smith, Victoria; Mrs. J. A. 'Donnell, Prince Rupert; Mrs. L. G. Alders, Victoria; C. W. Brazier, Vancouver, and Mrs. J. Aldous, Victoria.

In the afternoon sessions committee reports were heard and officers elected.

This evening the conference will be concluded with a dinner at 7, at which Maj. Harold Brown will speak on "The Long Range View," and Miss Peggy Walton will be guest soloist.

Two motorists were fined $15 each in Saanich Court Thursday for exceeding 30 miles an hour, and one was fined $10 for speeding through a school zone. Two were fined $5 each for failing to halt at a stop sign, and another was fined $5 for having no driver's license.

Canadian Clubs Convene Here

Two dozen delegates from Vancouver, Chilliwack, Prince Rupert and Vancouver Island met at the Empress Hotel today for the annual meeting of the regional council of the Canadian Clubs of British Columbia. During the morning session delegates were registered, correspondence and reports of council officers and delegates were considered.

Mrs. A. Carmichael of Victoria, chairman of the council, in giving her report, outlined the progress of the Canadian Club in B.C. since the formation of the regional council in 1930. She said the number of clubs had increased, more speakers had been supplied, and expenses had grown during this period.

Since the outbreak of war, and more especially since it came into the Pacific zone and within the past three weeks has struck the shores of this province, the problems Canadian Clubs must face have been multiplied, Mrs. Carmichael said.

"It would be most regrettable should any one of them (the clubs) be allowed to weaken or die at this time when our Dominion needs the fullest support of every individual and every

Fifth Column in Egypt, But British on Alert

British planes flying over Aboukir Air Base, near Alexandria, Egypt. Because they think British forces merely act as magnets for Axis bombs, many natives of much-bombed Alexandria are anti-British.

By PAUL MANNING
LONDON (By Cable)—Egypt's fifth column is a grave danger to British-Egyptian interests in the Middle East, official quarters here admitted today. And with the advance of Marshal Rommel's forces deep into Egypt, the menace is intensified.

Nahas Pasha, Egyptian prime minister, was alive to this rear-guard threat, and has taken an active part in checking subversive elements. But how active a part he can take is debatable. Egypt and the whole Middle East are so riddled with active and passive Axis sympathizers that little more than routine gestures can be made.

Six months ago Nahas Pasha did close the Vichy legation and order the French minister back to France. With British collaboration, he also closed the embassies of the Balkan nations at war with Britain, and chased out of Egypt the small army of Hungarian and Italian girl entertainers who danced in the night clubs of the important naval port of Alexandria.

MANY ITALIANS IN EGYPT
His constant surveillance of court habits and his surrounding King Farouk is also an important contribution to the present war of Allied counter-espionage being waged in the Mediterranean theatre of the world war.

But beyond these, Nahas Pasha can do little. Egypt's fifth column, with headquarters in Cairo, is the centre of a movement that stretches up through Palestine to Syria into Turkey. In Egypt alone, there are an estimated 60,000 first and second generation Italians. Because they are better mechanics than the Egyptians, they largely run garages and repair automobiles. Although some are undoubtedly anti-Axis, it is quite conceivable that a large slice of this group leans actively closer to Italy than to Britain and the United States.

ITALIANS GOT
BRITISH BATTLE PLANS

Many native elements, too, are far from loyal, with some actually in the pay of the Wilhelmstrasse. For nominal sums, they spy on all permanent and transient Britons and Americans. They spread rumors, of which such a blitzkrieg followed Rommel's breakthrough into Egypt, that Nahas Pasha had to issue an official warning of drastic punishment for rumor-mongers.

Almost the first indication of a chink in the facade of purported complete Egyptian friendship which Britain has erected appeared when the story of British battle plans being found in Italian hands at the capture of Tobruk during the desert campaign last winter was released to the press only recently.

Egypt's former prime minister had asked General Wavell for his plans for the coming battle. Wavell handed them over, but they were heavily doctored. British suspicions proved correct when copies of these phony plans were found in the possession of captured Italian officers.

They had been transmitted to Rome in the diplomatic pouches of the then active Balkan ministries. Some messages are, of course, transmitted to Rome by secret wireless, but that is hardly necessary when an Egyptian agent can write a letter to a friend in neutral Turkey, who will immediately post it on to Berlin or Rome.

CAIRO'S EGYPTIANS
WANT BRITISH TO WIN

Typical of the ease with which vital naval information can be obtained is the fact that natives gain admission to the docks of Alexandria with virtually no restrictions. They wander in and out of dock areas, observing the ships which arrive and depart. They can see which cruisers, battleships and submarines have been damaged and have put into the harbor for repairs.

All this makes slightly ludicrous the rigid enforcement of identity card inspection, imposed on all British, American and Allied men in uniform who enter the same area.

In much-bombed Alexandria, the anti-British feeling of many natives is understandable. To them, the Europeans in Alexandria merely draw down on the natives bombs of other foreigners from across the Mediterranean. On this basis alone, they say there is reason for dislike.

ARABS LIKE
BLOOD AND THUNDER

In Cairo, their reasons take a different turn. Although the city is a boom town, due to the millions which British interests and troops have poured into the place since the war began, the Egyptian man-in-the-street takes a malicious delight in watching the British take a few on the chin. Yet, like the Irish of Dublin, who feel the same way, they actually do want England to win this war.

In Syria and Palestine, where Hitler may one day move, sympathy for the Axis among the Arabs is due to another reason. Their centuries-old heritage is an understanding of the "strong man" who maintains power by blood and the sword. King Ibn Saud, a despot having life and death power over millions, is largely respected and loved by his Arab subjects.

They sense in Hitler a similarity, as they listen to broadcasts in Arabic from Zeelen, Germany. Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Roosevelt, broadcasting about democracy, and discussing idealistic conditions which Arabs do not understand, unfortunately fail to impress them.

O'BRIEN, DONLEVY IN 'TWO YANKS'

When Pat O'Brien and Brian Donlevy "get mad" at each other, during the hectic unreeling of Columbia's "Two Yanks in Trinidad," they reserve for themselves the right to knock each other's block off. And in that fact, according to a delighted Hollywood, lies a major reason for the cheers and excitement, the fun and frolic (and free-for-all fistbumps!) of the new comedy.

The embattled warriors are in uniform while carrying on their own private feud, but they join forces readily as soon as a greater conflict interferes, gladly renouncing "for the duration" their right to undisturbedly knock each other's block off.

"Two Yanks in Trinidad," which opens today at the Dominion Theatre, is also distinguished by the stellar presence of Janet Blair, comparative newcomer to the cinema scene, as a sultry cafe siren.

CAPITOL THEATRE
Stuart Crawford's monogram led to the capture of two bandits. While Crawford was working in "Ship Ahoy," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture at the Capitol Theatre, two thieves invaded Crawford's home. They made off with a radio, gold cigarette case, cuff links, wrist watch, evening studs, and the white flannel suit he wears in the finale of the musical.

They failed to notice that the actor's initials were inconspicuously engraved or embossed on each article.

ATLAS THEATRE
"The Courtship of Andy Hardy," now at the Atlas Theatre proved a tip-top addition to the popular family series. Every father, mother and child enjoyed the antics of Carvel's No. 1 boy and No. 1 actor.

Mickey Rooney was never better than in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture. And Donna Reed, as the latest romance in Andy's life, proves a charmer destined for top stardom in Hollywood.

Lewis Stone again is the wise, small-town judge, and his "man-to-man" talks with Mickey are a highlight. Fay Holden, Cecilia Parker, in her most dramatic role of the series, Ann Rutherford and Sara Haden all register in their familiar characterizations.

OAK BAY AND PLAZA THEATRES
Beautiful Priscilla Lane, who rose to cinema stardom in light comedy roles, is today being hailed as one of Hollywood's foremost dramatic actresses. The new acclaim is a result of her outstanding portrayal in "Saboteur," Universal's Alfred Hitchcock cock-directed feature, which is now being shown at the Oak Bay and Plaza Theatres. Miss Lane shares stellar billing with Robert Cummings in the picture.

YORK THEATRE
Inspired by the life of Mrs. Edna Gladney of Fort Worth, founder of the Texas Children's Home and Aid Society, who has devoted 30 years to child welfare and has found happy homes for more than 2,000 babies, "Blossoms in the Dust," starring Greer Garson and Walter Pidgeon, is currently at the York Theatre, the picture reveals for the first time the full beauty of the red-headed, green-eyed Irish actress, who rose to stardom overnight with her memorable performance of "Mrs. Chips" in "Goodbye, Mr. Chips." Now, as Mrs. Gladney, she has been given another tender, warmly human role of equal brilliance.

Workers Agree To 30-Day Trial

VANCOUVER (CP)—More than 1,000 machinists and blacksmiths return to work in three Vancouver shipyards today following a nine-day lay-off which started a week ago last Tuesday in protest against a federal order that the yards operate on a seven day week, continuous production program.

The unions held separate meetings here last night at which both groups voted to accept a proposal by Labor Minister Mitchell that the seven-day plan be given a 30-day trial. Under this plan the men work six days a week, but take their days off on a staggered schedule.

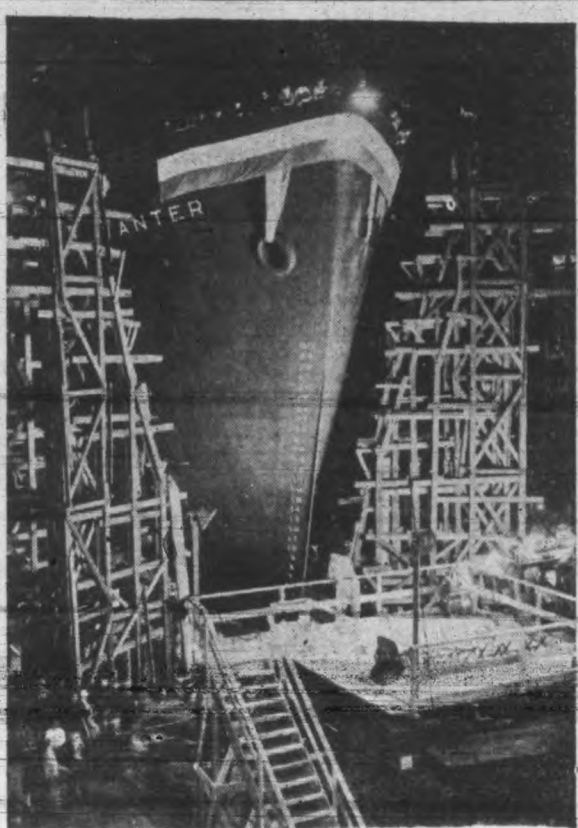

R. G. Daniels, president of the Machinists' Union, and member of a delegation representing Pacific coast unions which recently interviewed the labor minister at Ottawa, urged members of his organization to accept Mitchell's proposal.

A statement issued later by union officials said "the men are going to give this plan a very definite and honest trial, because we are convinced that to do so will ensure that the government will then give painstaking and honest consideration to the plan submitted by the delegation."

(In their conferences with Mr. Mitchell, the shipyard delegates proposed an alternative six-day week program, contending that Vancouver shipyards were not prepared to operate under a continuous production program.)

The Boilermakers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Union, which has the largest membership in the shipyards, also met last night to hear the report of the delegates that visited Ottawa. This union decided that "all action should be taken on the basis of reports to the All-Union Conference of the unions which form it, and should be co-ordinated with majority action."

The Plumbers' and Steamfitters' Union and the Shipwrights, Joiners and Caulkers' Union will hold meetings tonight to consider Mr. Mitchell's proposal. A meeting of the All-Union Conference will be held Sunday when delegates from the various unions will report on the decisions of each group.

MITCHELL PLEADED

OTTAWA (CP)—Labor Minister Mitchell expressed appreciation today for the action of about 1,000 machinists in three Vancouver shipyards to return to work after being off the job a week in protest against the government's proposal for introduction of seven-day operation in the yards.

"The decision of the machinists indicates the fundamental common sense and inherent soundness of the shipyard workers in British Columbia at this time of crisis, concerning which I have never entertained any doubt," the minister said.

Laws should be cut not closer than 1 1/2 inches since grass, like all other plants, depends on its leaves for food to produce roots

Capt. Kelly With Docks 30 Years

With the closing down of the former Rithet docks to shipping, Capt. Edward Kelly, who for the past 30 years has been superintendent of the ocean wharves established here by the late R. P. Rithet, has been retained as storekeeper by the V.M.D., which now owns the docks.

Capt. Kelly, known to the marine fraternity all over the Pacific coast for his long association with trans-Pacific and coast-wise shipping, was born in India, 350 miles inland from the port of Calcutta, where his father was connected with the Indian Civil Service.

At the age of seven years, Capt. Kelly was sent to England to be educated, but he soon decided to go to sea, and in 1883 he shipped as a cabin boy aboard the sailing ship Canbury, bound for Buenos Aires. He later made a trip on the same ship as engineer.

Finishing the sea to his liking, Capt. Kelly joined the shipbuilding firm of J. H. Rithet, which he served as chief officer. One trip on the Enne lasted over three years. He traded in Oriental waters for some months and then sailed for Mauritius and Australia, there loading a cargo of wool for Boston and then taking another cargo across the Atlantic to Scotland.

SALES TO HAWAII

The turn of the century found Capt. Kelly sailing out of San Francisco to Hawaii aboard sailing ships of the Welch Line. With this company he served aboard the Mohican, George Curtis and Andrew Welch.

In those days Capt. Kelly made his first contact with Vancouver Island. He took the Mohican to Ladysmith and loaded a cargo of coal there for Honolulu. He also brought the George Curtis here for a cargo of lumber, left her in these waters and went to Hawaii as a passenger on the Moana, and there took command of the Andrew Welch.

Capt. Kelly has every reason for remembering the San Francisco earthquake and fire of 1906. On the night of April 17 he left the Golden Gate on the George Curtis. When the ship was about 100 miles out at sea she was rammed by the schooner Mindora. It took the George Curtis four days to limp back to San Francisco. The second mate was killed in the collision.

When Capt. Kelly returned to San Francisco he learned the earthquake had occurred five hours after he had sailed, and the Golden Gate city was in ruins.

7 Axis Ships Sunk in June

LONDON (CP)—Seven Axis vessels, including an Italian destroyer and a large ammunition-laden supply ship en route to Libya, were sunk during June, in addition to many vessels damaged by British and United States air and naval patrols, it was shown in a review issued today. Among those damaged were several Italian warships.

Listed as sunk were: An Italian destroyer of the 1628-ton Navigatori class, three medium-sized supply ships and a small merchant ship by the submarine Turbulent, in the Mediterranean.

A large supply ship carrying ammunition and a medium supply ship in the Mediterranean, also by submarine action.

Other actions reported for the month included: June 7—One of two German torpedo boats encountered off the Belgian coast hit amidstships by a torpedo and almost certainly sunk.

June 14—Italian naval force of two battleships and four destroyers attacked by torpedo planes. Number of hits scored and fires caused. Second naval force of cruisers and destroyers attacked. One cruiser set on fire, one destroyer probably hit.

June 19—Large supply ship hit by torpedo as German convoy is raided, several E-boats damaged by gunfire.

June 20—150-ton patrol vessel left burning, several E-boats probably hit as light coastal patrols fight in the English Channel.

June 21—Six E-boats scattered. Some damaged by gunfire as light coastal craft attack.

June 23—Two merchant ships hit off Cape Spartivento. One settled at stern. Destroyer also hit, causing an explosion. Large enemy ship carrying supplies in Mediterranean damaged by two pedoes.

MARKET CLOSED ON 4TH NEW YORK (AP)—Security and commodity markets throughout the United States will close Saturday, July 4.

Don't be the missing man.

C.P. Air Fleet Busy on War Work

MONTREAL—Ninety per cent of the company's air fleet is now flying men and materials connected with war projects, stated L. B. Unwin, president of Canadian Pacific Air Lines in Montreal.

At the present time operations of Canadian Pacific Air Lines in the Yukon and Northwest Territories regions are on a 24-hour basis and the company is freight by air control parties and equipment connected with the Alaska Highway, assisting in the plotting of the pipeline route from Ft. Norman to Whitehorse, carrying in the surveying parties for the proposed railway from Prince George northward to Alaska, as well as providing essential northern mail and passenger services. The groundwork laid in the past decade by northern civilian fliers in establishing air routes throughout the north radiating from Edmonton is now proving of inestimable value in speeding vital defence projects. Without the experience of these civilian operators in the extensive northern regions the progress in developing key defence works in the Yukon-Alaska area might have been seriously retarded, emphasized Mr. Unwin.

'Brintank' Walker Dies

MONTREAL—Funeral services for Oscar C. Walker, chief supervisor of perishable traffic and weighing, Canadian Pacific Railway, whose death occurred Monday night, were attended Wednesday by railway representatives and shippers.

Closely associated with the development of refrigerated traffic on Canadian railways for the past three decades, Mr. Walker's duties took him regularly to all parts of the Dominion. He was known by the nickname of "Brintank" Walker to producers and shippers of perishables whose shipping problems he helped to solve with the development of better types of refrigerated cars.

Foreign Exchange

NEW YORK (AP)—Foreign exchange late rates: Canada: Official Canadian Central Board rates for U.S. dollars: Buying 10 per cent premium, selling 11 per cent premium, equivalent to discounts on Canadian dollars in New York of buying 9.91 per cent, selling 9.09 per cent. Canadian dollars in New York open market 10.1-16 per cent discount or 89.83-93 U.S. cents. Europe: Great Britain, official (Bankers' Foreign Exchange Committee rates), buying $4.02, selling $4.04.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market lost some of its war-buying enthusiasm today, but there still were enough bidders in the arena to keep prices generally in the advancing division. Dealings, fairly speedy in the morning, tapered off after midday. Transfers approximated 300,000 shares.

Among stock favorites U.S. Rubber preferred bounced up several points to a new 1942 top. Santa Fe touched its best level since 1938. American Telephone was a wide mover. Ahead the greater part of the time were Sears Roebuck, N.Y. Central, Southern Pacific, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, Anaconda, American Can, Du Pont, Standard Oil (N.J.) and Texas Co.

In the minus column now and then were International Harvester, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Dome Mines and Johns-Manville.

Dow Jones averages closed today as follows:

30 Industrials: 184.48, up .76
15 Utilities: 117.71, up .14
Total sales, 356,000 shares.

Dorothy Dix:

Boredom Seen Responsible For Majority of Divorces

Dear Miss Dix: I am a young woman, an office worker, and I have been going with a man. I thought I was madly in love with him, but recently I have spent some time with my uncle and aunt watching them live together and watching them live together has changed my whole idea of marriage. Both are fine people, so far as principles go, but my uncle is a big, silent, slow man. Never has an idea of his own, no initiative, no pep; my aunt is exactly the opposite. She is very attractive. Has a fine job in an office. On her toes every minute. Grand housekeeper. Good at everything.

My uncle and aunt have nothing in common, yet they never argue or quarrel, but I think my aunt must be bored to death with him. They married when they were very young.

Now, if I marry this man I have been in love with, I will be a repetition of what I have described above. What shall I do?

Answer: Get down on your knees and thank your Guardian Angel that you have been saved from making the mistake of marrying a man with whom you have nothing in common and of whom you would be dead tired before the honeymoon had set.

When we think of unhappy marriages, we think of their failure being caused by some great fault in either the husband or the wife; that she is a nag, or a henpecker, or a shrew, or a poor housekeeper, or wasteful and extravagant; or he is a phillanderer, or a drunkard, or a gambler, or a lazy loafer. But, in reality, what wrecks marriages oftener than a vice is just uncongeniality.

Boredom is at the bottom of nine-tenths of the divorces. It is only after husbands and wives get so fed up with each other and so tired of their dull company and so weary of listening to their stupid conversation that they start out to hunt up someone who is entertaining and amusing and with whom they can share their thoughts and interests.

HOW TO AVOID TRAGEDY
I have often thought how many domestic tragedies could be avoided if young people, who are thinking of getting married would really try to find out before they take the fatal step just what they have in common, instead of waiting to find out after marriage that neither one is interested in a single thing that the other one is, and that they don't even speak the same language.

But they don't. We all know dozens of couples in which bookish men are married to wives who never read even a sixth best seller. Outdoor men who love games who have wives who are allergic to golf. Chatty women who are married to men who never speak. Affectionate women who are married to men who are as unemotional as a store dummy.

Such marriages are really more unhappy than those in which a woman is married to a drunkard, or a man to a virago, because there is no way out. Neither one has committed an actionable offense against the other. A man can't get a divorce from his wife because she doesn't share his passion for apple pie. A woman can't go to Reno and collect alimony from her husband because he doesn't like to dance, and she does. All they can do is to endure their misery.

So be glad you found out in time that you couldn't stand a lifetime of the society of a dull husband.

ADVISED NOT TO ELOPE
Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a sophomore in college and so is my boy friend. We want to get married as he will have to go to war sometime next year, but our parents want us to wait. My father especially objects because he wants me to continue school and graduate, but I am not getting the full benefit of my education as my interests lie in John and our plans. So we are thinking about eloping. In fact, we have practically decided on it, but I would sort of like a wedding. I have always counted on having one.

I would be perfectly happy to elope, only I hate to hurt my father. What do you think I should do? There is no objection on either side to our marrying, only our parents want us to put it off for the present.

Answer: I strongly urge you to listen to your parents. But if you are bent and determined on marrying anyhow, do it honestly and frankly and aboveboard. Don't elope. Your parents have been so good and kind to you, you certainly owe them the small return of not sneaking away behind their backs and being married in some hole-in-the-corner way, without their knowing what you are doing.

Don't give up that pretty, dignified wedding that you have been planning ever since you were 12 years old. Think about how lovely you will look in that white satin dress, with the misty veil and the orange blossoms, as you walk slowly up the aisle to give everybody a good eyeful, preceded by your bridesmaids as gay and pretty as butterflies. It will be your great moment that you will remember as long as you live and tell your grandchildren about.

And do you know that statistics show that the marriages that are solemnized in church, while all of one's little world looks on, and where a man and woman swear their vows of fidelity before God's altar, last longer and have a better chance of happiness than when a couple get married by a justice of the peace in a dingy office with perhaps a char woman for the only witness?

So don't elope. If Johnny is worth having, he is worth waiting for. And if you love him, you needn't be afraid that your love won't stand a little separation.

South Sea Natives Tell Strange Tree Tales

Many legends about trees are told in the South Sea Islands. In the Tonga Islands, natives speak about a tree which grew "clear up to heaven." In the Bank Islands people say that a god named Quat climbed a very tall tree and escaped from enemies.

The old-time faith is gone, or almost gone, in New Zealand, but for a long time the Maoris supposed that trees stood for the powerful god, Tanay. They declared that birds were his children.

Natives of Tahiti plant trees near temples. They believe that gods live in the trees.

Native girl of Tahiti

There is a wide-spread belief in the god Tangaroa among natives of the South Sea Islands. This god is said to be lord of the waters and of fishes. One legend tells how he made other gods out of chips from the aito-tree.

In the Fiji Islands, tree leaves are thrown "on the spot where the last evening shadow falls." Trees have great value for those island folk. They supply shade from the hot sun, and lumber for boats and houses. Fuel for fire is another extremely important use for trees on islands where there are no coal mines.

Many South Sea Island natives say that trees, stones and waves are the homes of spirits. Smoke and steam also are honored as "spirit homes."

Priests of Tahiti have declared that when rats "squeak" or when children talk in their sleep, spirits are making themselves heard.

Among the brown-skinned people of Tahiti are some who believe that their chiefs have turned into gods. Even the common man may have no fear of death, because he looks forward to a pleasant life as a spirit.

The past few centuries have brought important changes in the South Sea Islands. Whites have settled on them, and have given
